

Robert Sheckley

Watchbird

by Robert Sheckley (1928 - 2005)

Three Robert Sheckley short stories that demonstrate the breath of his fantastic imagination. In "Watchbird," the question "can machines solve human problems?" is answered with a resounding YES! But there may be a few unforeseen glitches. . . just a few. "Warrior Race" drops us into an alien race of warriors who fight in a way you will never be able to imagine until you listen. And "Beside Still Waters" is a gentle story that shows us a man who really wants to get away from it all ... sitting on a rock in the asteroid belt with only a robot for a friend. No girls allowed! A poignant and unsettling story to say the least.
